Phoenix - Grand Canyon

Today you'll travel through the desert into the high plateaus of Arizona. On route, make a stop at Montezuma Castle National Monument. This well-preserved cliff dwelling was built between 1100 and 1400 AD, and contains a five-story, 19-room ruin. Continue into the heart of Red Rock country, and the resort town of Sedona. Later, as we travel north, we will visit Oak Creek Canyon and see the towering sandstone cliffs. This afternoon make your way to one of nature's masterpieces, Grand Canyon National Park. An amazing site that every American should see.

Mar 11

Grand Canyon National Park

You are free to take the shuttle and explore Grand Canyon National Park on your own. Grand Canyon National Park captures everyone's imagination and today enjoy free time to pursue one of the many optional activities available here at the park. Whatever you choose to do, you're sure to be enthralled by what nature and the Colorado River have been carving out of the earth over millions of years. This evening meet at the El Tovar Hotel where we'll meet for a dinner in this classic restaurant. Best Western Squire Inn, Tusayan, AZ (B, D)

Grand Canyon - Phoenix

Today, we will travel through the Kaibab and Coconino National Forests. Our destination is the mining town of Prescott. Nestled at an elevation of 5200 feet, this territorial capital is rich in history. We'll relive the days of Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday and stop for a visit at one of the famous saloons. This afternoon, make your way back to The "Valley of the Sun" where we'll visit the Heard Museum. Among the exhibits in its 10 galleries are ethnological, historical and contemporary materials of Southwestern Native Americans. Later, arrive at your hotel located in Old Town Scottsdale, a fun vibrant historic district with wonderful shopping and entertainment. The evening is free to explore Old Town on your own.
